Pentagon Is Centralizing Service News

NEW YORK (AP) — The Pentagon is centralizing the flow of news to servicemen abroad, but says the move is a physical one, aimed at efficiency and not news management.

However, Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., chairman of the Special Government Information subcommittee, was on record today as looking into the matter.

The New York and Los Angeles offices of the official Armed Forces Press, Radio and Television Service already have shifted to Arlington, Va. The New York Bureau of the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, was expected to follow.

"I have directed the subcommittee staff to look into the Stars and Stripes matter and I will keep you advised on developments," Moss wrote Hu Blom, managing editor of the Wenatchee (Wash.) Daily World and chairman of The Associated Press Managing Editors Freedom of Information Committee.

Biond said he had received reports of a planned Pentagon centralization of news and had written Moss.

In Washington, John Broger, civilian director of Armed Forces Information and Education, said creation of the Armed Forces News Bureau represented a physical centralization for the sake of efficiency and economy.

"There will be no difference in the handling of news but simply an increase in the flow of news," Broger said. "I've been in the news field for 35 years and I hold the same views on news as most people in a free society hold."

Broger denied any plans for censorship.

Kerr Firing Condemned by Teachers

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — About 1,000 University of California professors and teachers have condemned the sudden firing of President Clark Kerr as a "destructive political intervention."

Gov. Ronald Reagan in a news conference promised the university "won't be sullied by partisan politics."

Sharply worded resolutions passed Tuesday by the Academic Senates at the Berkeley campus and at the campus at Santa Barbara were the loudest academic outcries since 14 members of the Board of Regents, including Reagan, voted last Friday to end Kerr's career as head of the 87,000-student, nine-campus university.

In Sacramento, Reagan called the firing "ill-timed but necessary" and said that Kerr initiated the confrontation which led to the ouster vote.

Reagan, who had feuded with Kerr over proposals to cut the university budget and impose tuition, said the university "won't be sullied by partisan politics because this governor has no intention of ever overruling the regents."

Reagan in his campaign for governor last year charged that Kerr had permitted political activity on the campus in behalf of Reagan's democratic foe, then Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The Academic Senate at Berkeley, a few hours later, passed a resolution by an overwhelming hand vote charging the Kerr firing was political intervention which "threatens the survival of the University of California as an institution of distinction." There were more than 1,000 members present.

The assembled educators then passed 429-246 another resolution charging the regents had "betrayed" the faculty trust.

"As of today no reputable educator would assume the presidency of that university which yesterday was the envy of every other state," the resolution said. "We, the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley, condemn utterly the dismissal of president Clark Kerr by the Board of Regents."

The Senate also opposed the tuition plan suggested by Reagan. It has asked the legislature to provide adequate financial support for the university and has demanded that the faculty have a voice in the selection of a successor to Kerr.

Tornadoes Leave Six Persons Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least six persons were killed and hundreds injured by tornadoes in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

The violence erupted Tuesday as the Midwest basked in springlike weather that sent the temperatures soaring into the mid-70s. It happened when a cold air mass collided with the unseasonably warm air.

A teen-age boy and two young girls were killed in Missouri and a 3-year-old boy died in Iowa. A policeman in Chicago and a farmer in downstate Illinois also died as a result of the fierce winds.

Damage was heaviest in the Kansas City, St. Louis and Orrick, Mo., areas where trees were uprooted, power lines felled, roofs caved in or were ripped off buildings, and various structures were demolished.

"I just heard the window blinds shaking and sounds like something falling," said B.M. Carpenter, superintendent of schools at Orrick, Mo. School clocks found amid the debris had stopped at 12:52 p.m.

The Orrick High School took the brunt of the first tornado reported. One student was killed and 14 other students, a teacher and two townspeople were injured.

Danny Gene Barber, 18, a senior, died in the main corridor of the school. He apparently was suffocated under rubble from the school's roof which fell on him as he left his typing class.

"Glass was flying everywhere," said 17-year-old Faye Elliott, a classmate of Barber's. "Then it was over and all we could hear was the rain."

The storm front, gathering strength, spread over a wide area. Tornadoes ripped into sections of southeastern Iowa and killed 3-year-old Byron Swyer on the western outskirts of Fort Madison when one of the twisters wrecked a converted school house in which he and his family lived.

A number of persons were injured in Iowa and damage was widespread.

About six hours after Orrick was struck, the massive storm pushed into the St. Louis area, with golf-ball size hail, heavy rains and lightning.

The storm also bore a twister which hit the heavily populated North St. Louis County area, leaving two children dead, more than 200 injured, and property damage that officials said would run into the tens of thousands of dollars.

Mike Clarkson, 16, was standing in his front yard with his mother, Norma Clarkson. "The wind just lifted her up and slammed her into a post," Mrs. Clarkson was among 25 known to have been hospitalized overnight in the St. Louis area. She suffered head injuries. Most of the 200 injured suffered cuts and bruises and were treated and released.

The dead at St. Louis were Dianne Schlegel, 4, of suburban Creve Coeur, and Jeri Allison Cannady, 6, of St. Louis County.

LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

Did you know that 860 new indoor movie theaters were built in the U.S. in 1966 and 96 new drive ins. Yes, folks are re-discovering the right way to see a movie is on big screen with an audience.
You're behind times if you don't attend our Saenger at least once a week.

TV stations are again trying to tell us how to live. They quietly got thru a bill in Congress to make Daytime Saving time National unless individual states vote against it. Our State House already voted 78-16 against it... why upset our whole daily schedule by changing the clock twice a year ???

Sunday-Monday is another teenage cute comedy, no sense to it - just fun, and cute girls. "Dr. Goldfoot and The Girl Bombs"

"Spinout" is coming back Tuesday for those who missed it before. It's Elvis's Best in over a year.

Nikita Is Back, But on the Stage

BUDAPEST (AP) — For the first time since his fall from power, Nikita S. Khrushchev's image has appeared on the stage in Hungary.

A theater at Miskolc, in northern Hungary, staged a version of a novel by the noted 20th century Czechoslovak novelist Karel Capek.

The theater version of "Fight with the Salamandras" was titled "Spot Report on the Destruction of the World."

Bob Thomas at the Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The assistant director opened the door cautiously and said, "Dean, could you come up and look at the scene through the movieola and then do a run-through?"

Dean Martin viewed the suggestion with scorn in his sleepy eyes. He was seated in the basement of an abandoned department store that was being used as a location for his latest film, "Band of Gold."

Director Fielder Cook was asking Martin to look at previous film on a movie viewer so he could match the action in the scene that was to be shot that afternoon.

"He asking me to climb those stairs just to look at a movieola?" Martin said indignantly. "Forget it. You tell him when he's ready to shoot the scene I'll be there and I'll know my lines."

The assistant retreated. This was the latest episode on a battle of nerves that has been the talk of Hollywood. The trade had buzzed with reports Martin and Cook were not seeing eye to eye. In fact, the star had not appeared for work one day and the company had to be dismissed.

"Yeah, I had to lay down the law," Martin admitted with his customary casualness. "This guy with the two last names, he was shooting eight or nine takes of every scene. He had a great big three-million-dollar toy and he was having fun with it."

"Trouble is, he was playing with my money, 'cause the more money that's spent, the less profit I get. But more than that, it ain't my style. How can you tell a joke eight-nine times? It's bound to get stale."

"Finally I told him, 'What the hell you doing with all these takes?' He said he might find something he didn't expect. I told him, 'Well, you find it in the first or second take, because that's all you're going to get.'"

Martin declared the impasse was settled when Columbia production boss Mike Frankovich instructed the director: "Shoot it his (Martin's) way."

Another assistant director appeared and asked if Martin would now come upstairs for filming. No mention was made of viewing the previous scene.

"Okay," the actor conceded, and he went to the main floor, which was filled with extras. His rehearsal was letter perfect.

As the final preparations were being made for the shot, director Cook minimized their differences.

"If one-tenth of what was printed in the trade papers had really happened," he told a visitor, "it would have been akin to the 1917 revolution."

"In truth it has been like a wonderful eight-week honeymoon, followed by one week of discord. It happens in any marriage. I have great respect for Dean; he is the best high-comedian in the business."

The set was ready. The camera recorded the scene twice. "Print!" said Cook, indicating

HELEN HELP US!
by Helen Bottel

SHE GOT LUCKY

Dear Helen: I was married once before and now am on my second husband. The first marriage lasted five years and two kids. I loved this man dearly and never went against him. To sum it up, his wish was my command. No matter what he said and did, I acquiesced. He ended up leaving me for another woman.

Now with Husband No. 2, whom I've had two years and think the world of, I play a happier game. He treats me like a queen. I don't do everything he says. When he mentions he'd like to go out alone, I say, "Good, then I'll make plans to be away too." That stops him cold.

I discovered that if you give a man everything, he isn't satisfied, but if you stand up for your rights, he thinks you're a typical, human lovable woman, and he stays close because you keep him interested — and perhaps because he isn't all that sure of you. Am I right? — WISER

Dear Helen: I read the perfect answer to the woman whose husband never takes her any place. Said this wife, "I have a wonderful recipe for goulash. Never fails. I make it, and we go out to dinner." — READER

Dear Helen: Our 13-year-old daughter says you don't agree with me about not letting her date and hang around with boys. Her biggest interest is hanging around at the drugstore where the boys are. I say dates can wait till she's near 15. She says you'll be on her side. — WHICH

Dear Which: If you don't know I'm on YOUR side, you haven't been reading HHU and YAFI very carefully! Age - 13 is a time to have friends who are boys (but not down at the drugstore) and most definitely NOT boy-friends! Dates should wait until around age 15; and then, no steadying, please! — H.

Dear Mrs. Bottel: One of your correspondents, in referring to a "shyster real estate man," later called him a "realtor." I believe she used the latter word improperly, as realtors are "real estate agents who are members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards." As such they are sworn to a code of ethics which would not permit the kind of conduct this letter reports. Not all real estate salesmen are Realtors.

If the man is, in fact, a "real-estate shyster," he should be reported immediately to the NAREB for disciplinary action. — Bernon W. Beardsley, Public Relations Director, California Real Estate Association.

Celtics End Long Reign of 76ers

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Red Auerbach apparently has given up the skirmish, but he still plans to win the war.

The outspoken general manager of the Boston Celtics came to Philadelphia a few hours before his team defeated the 76ers 118-106 Tuesday night and made a few pertinent observations about the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division race.

Noting that the Celtics are second in the East, nine games behind the leader 76ers, Auerbach said:

"When I coached the Washington Capitols we won the regular season title with a record of 49-11 during the 1946-47 season and got whipped in the playoffs."

"And one of my Boston teams won the Eastern Division by 14 or more games and got whipped in the playoffs."

Later, the Celtics, with Auerbach doing a little coaching from the row in back of the Boston bench, punctuated their boss' remarks. They ended a nine-game Philadelphia winning streak as well as a 38-game regular season home court string of victories dating back to Jan. 7, 1966.

Sam Jones scored 38 points while the famed Boston defense held Philadelphia to 11 points in the all-important last 10 minutes. That's when Philadelphia watched a 95-94 lead melt into a 12-point loss.

Hal Greer was high for the 76ers with 23 points.

At New York, Oscar Robertson scored 37 points and handed out 11 assists in leading the Cincinnati Royals to 126-118 victory over the Knicks. Adrian Smith contributed 28 points, 21 in the second half when the Royals broke the game open. Willis Reed scored 21 for the Knicks.

The Detroit Pistons easily defeated the Bulls 108-95 at Chicago behind the 32-point effort of rookie Dave Bing. Guy Rodgers paced Chicago with 21.

On the West Coast, Rick Barry scored 35 points and Nate Thurmond pulled down 28 rebounds in sparking the San Francisco Warriors to a 145-125 victory over the Baltimore Bullets. Gus Johnson's 23 points were high for the Bullets, playing without Don Ohl, their high scorer who has an injured right knee.

Two Sign Pacts With Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Outfielders Dick Simpson and Johnny Fenderson have signed their 1967 contracts with the Cincinnati Reds.

Simpson, 23, who came to the Reds in the trade that sent superstar Frank Robinson to Baltimore last winter, batted .238 for Cincinnati in 92 games last year. Fenderson, 22, played for Knoxville and batted .324.

Hope Girls Turn Back Spring Hill

By RALPH ROUNTON

With outstanding guard play and fantastic second half shooting, the Hope Ladycats overwhelmed Spring Hill 68 to 46 last night at Jones Field House.

Hope led all the way with the margin ranging from 3 to 23 points. The local ladies surprisingly had an easy time controlling the ball, and backboards, the outstanding factor in the victory. The rebounds were 55-34.

The Ladycats wasted no time in gaining the upper hand, jumping to a 6-2 lead in the opening minute. The score remained fairly close throughout the rest of the quarter which ended 14-11.

Hope completely dominated the second quarter with Guards Donna Byers, Kay Coleman and Nellie Churchwell holding Star Forward Betty McNeil scoreless. Then Hope closed out the half with 10 straight points and led 30-15 midway.

In the third period Spring Hill began to show signs of a comeback. An ankle sprain suffered by Hope Guard Kay Coleman, and the visitors outscored Hope 20-17 cutting the deficit to 12. At the end of three the score was 47-35.

In the final chapter, however, Hope quickly upped the lead to 17 points and were never headed. The Ladycats also hit on 65 percent of their shots in the final half, racing to their 11th victory in 13 starts.

Carol Anthony had her best night of the season, leading the attack with 38 points. Kathryn Coleman had 18 and Gail Hartsfield had 12. Betty McNeil led Spring Hill with 23, followed by Cindy McCormick with 15 and Bonnie Kidd with 8.

Spring Hill won the other two games of the night. The visiting Junior Girls had no trouble in beating Hope 40-22. Virginia Applegate led all scorers for Spring Hill with 21. Wanda Horn had 13. Linda Wray led Hope with 12 and Mary Beth Millican had 8.

The Spring Hill boys prevailed over the Hope B boys for the second time this season, the score 59-50. Ronnie Kidd paced the visitors with 21 and Lloyd Phelps scored 19. Terry Turner made 14 for Hope and John Henley scored 11.

49ers Can't See Trading Fullback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers say the chances are slight that fullback Ken Willard will get his wish to be traded.

"In analyzing the personnel of the teams to which Ken wants to be traded, I seriously doubt the feasibility of such a trade," General Manager Lou Spafia said Tuesday.

Willard said he would give up the game unless traded to either the Washington Redskins or the Baltimore Colts, which are near his Richmond, Va., home.

Willard said he wanted to be near his insurance business in Richmond and that his decision was not based on any unhappiness with the coaches, players or fans in San Francisco.

Spafia said he had discussed the matter with Willard and was not convinced the two-year veteran from North Carolina will quit.

"If he does," said Spafia, "I'd be sorry to see him go."

Both Benvenuti and his manager were laid up with a touch of the flu Tuesday after watching Griffith gain his narrow decision victory over Joey Archer at the Garden Monday night.

After watching Griffith beat Dick Tiger last April 25 and Archer, Benvenuti said he was not too impressed with the champion.

Benvenuti, 28, won the Olympic welterweight championship in 1960 and has lost only once in 120 amateur and 70 pro fights.

The defeat cost him his world junior middleweight title. He went to South Korea and lost a 15-round decision to Kim Ki-Soo last June 25.

Americans Are Upset

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Dave Power of Bloomington, Ind., teamed with Bill Coughlan of Australia and upset America's top doubles combination of Arthur Ashe and Cliff Richey 6-3, 4-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 in the third round of the Australian Championships.

Nino Very Confident He Can Win

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Italy's Nino Benvenuti is confident he can beat middleweight champion Emile Griffith. All he wants is the chance.

The European champion may nail that down today or Thursday when his manager, Bruno Amaduzzi, and Griffith's co-managers, Gil Clancy and Howie Albert, negotiate terms with Madison Square Garden's Harry Markson and Teddy Brenner.

"We'd like to make the match for March 22 at the Garden," said Markson.

"I'm ready," said Griffith. "It's up to my managers to do the business."

"If he signs, I'll sign," said Benvenuti. "That's what I came over for."

Both Benvenuti and his manager were laid up with a touch of the flu Tuesday after watching Griffith gain his narrow decision victory over Joey Archer at the Garden Monday night.

After watching Griffith beat Dick Tiger last April 25 and Archer, Benvenuti said he was not too impressed with the champion.

Benvenuti, 28, won the Olympic welterweight championship in 1960 and has lost only once in 120 amateur and 70 pro fights.

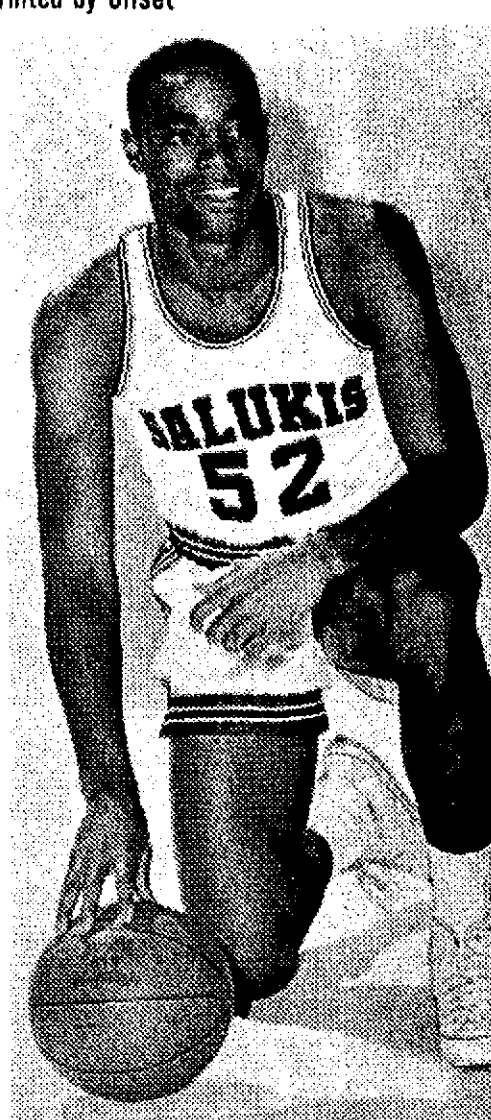

The defeat cost him his world junior middleweight title. He went to South Korea and lost a 15-round decision to Kim Ki-Soo last June 25.

Cadets Chalk Up Fourth Win in Row

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The basketball caissons are rolling at West Point.

That means if all goes well the Black Knights of The Hudson once more will be in a post-season tournament in March.

Paced by Bill Schultsky's 37 points, the Army Cadets chalked up their fourth in a row by overwhelming Massachusetts 68-46 Tuesday.

That upped Army's over-all record to 7-6. If the Cadets can follow through against Boston University, Fordham, Penn State, Manhattan, St. John's, Rutgers, NYU and Navy in their remaining games, they are virtually certain to land a post-season tournament berth.

In each of the last three seasons they reached the semifinals of the NIT.

In other home court victories on Tuesday's slim program, Cincinnati crushed Centenary 100-76, East Carolina beat George Washington 79-73, Arizona State humbled Hawaii 79-64 and San Francisco downed San Francisco State 75-64. On the road, Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 88-77. All the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll were idle.

Schultsky, a 6-foot-2 junior from Hillside, N.J., exploded for 15 straight points to cut short a second half rally by Massachusetts at West Point.

The coleaders of the Yankee Conference had rallied to within two points at 40-38 before Schultsky went on his spree. Schultsky got 17 points in the first half and 20 after intermission.

Rick Robertson, a 6-9 soph, threw in 33 points to lead Cincinnati over Centenary as the Bearcats boosted their season record to 13-3. Larry Ward led the losing Gents with 31.

Charlie LaRue scored six vital points in the closing minutes to keep East Carolina ahead of George Washington. Bill Branley's 13 points paced Arizona State over Hawaii as the Sun Devils used their reserves most of the way.

Phil Wagoner, with 20 points, led Georgia Tech over Clemson as the Engineers won their fourth straight to make their season record 9-6. Randy Mahaffey was high for Clemson with 21.

Sophomore Mike Doherty threw in nine of 11 field goal tries in the second half to spark San Francisco over San Francisco State. The Dons led by only 28-26 at halftime before Doherty broke loose.

Southern S. in Victory Over Harding

AIC ROUNDUP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Defending champion Southern State drilled Harding 77-70 Tuesday night and clung to its lead in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race.

Donnie Denton paced the Muleriders with 22 points and hit a three-point play midway through the second half that put Southern State ahead to stay at 53-51.

Milton Hancock added 19 points and Charles Jones 17 for the winners. Rick Turner led Harding with 22. Bob McKeel had 19 and George Frazier 12.

The Muleriders are now 8-1 in the conference, compared to second place State College of Arkansas' 9-2.

No further AIC action is slated until Friday when Southern State entertains Henderson at Magnolia and Ouachita battles Harding at Searcy.

race Thursday morning will open the tournament with Michael Gallagher of Killington, Vt., favored. Gallagher was on the 1964 U.S. Olympic cross-country squad and the 1966 Nordic team racing in Europe.

Robert Gray of Putney, Vt.; Dan Newton of Deadwood, N.D.; and Clark Matis and Lewis Matis, both of Durango, appear to be Gallagher's strongest competitors.

Races, all for 10 kilometers, in the veterans, women and junior divisions will be held Friday afternoon with a 15-kilometer test Saturday morning.

The Thursday and Saturday events plus the relays Sunday will be for national titles. In the relays each member of four-man competing teams will ski 10 kilometers.

Car Racing Figure Dies at 47

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — "He took stock car racing out of the bushes and made it major league," legendary driver Joe Weatherly once said of his close friend Bob Colvin.

Colvin, 47, cofounder of Darlington International Raceway, died of a heart attack Tuesday in his swank little office at the raceway, scarcely 100 feet from where Weatherly's memory occupies a prominent space in the sport's Hall of Fame.

The bald, 200-pound, 5-foot-9 Colvin had complained of feeling bad only hours before his death. An associate said he had had a heart condition for about a year, but not many other leaders in stock car racing knew it.

Funeral services for Colvin will be at Trinity Methodist Church Thursday afternoon. Burial will follow in the Darlington Cemetery.

BETWEEN YOU'N' ME
BY MURRAY OLDERMAN
SPORTS EDITOR
NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSOCIATION

HOLLYWOOD, Fla.—(NEA)—It's a cinch that Joe Schmidt will coach the Detroit Lions because while owner Bill Ford was pussyfooting about the announcement of Harry Gilmer's successor, Schmidt was already huddling with such old pals as George Wilson, coach of the Miami Dolphins, and Don Shula, coach of the Baltimore Colts, about the mysteries of being a head man.

Johnny McAlle, general manager of the Atlanta Braves and an old center at Notre Dame in the early Leaky era, made the scene at the NFL Players Golf tournament at the Hollywood Beach club because he could swap reminiscences with his old college roommate All-American halfback Creighton Miller, who's the legal adviser to the players' association.

McAlle also has a family stake in football, since his oldest son, a fine high school fullback, is being wooed by 37 different colleges with scholarship offers.

Look for Pete Retzlaff, the veteran all-pro tight end of the Eagles, to announce his retirement shortly.

The most awesome man in football now is Bob Brown, the huge offensive tackle of the Eagles. During the Playoff Bowl, Dale Memmelaar, a reserve lineman for the Baltimore Colts, was goading Brown from the sidelines. Brown pointed a finger at him. "What's that?" yelled Memmelaar, "Your IQ?"

Brown ran over to the Colt bench and coach Don Shula, implored, "Please, coach, put that No. 67 in the game."

Brown, whose weight fluctuates between 290 and 315, fools around with weights occasionally and already has pressed 412 pounds, not too far off the world record.

Before the next football season, there'll be the greatest wholesale trading of quarterbacks in history. Almost cinches to wear new uniforms are Gary Cuozzo of Baltimore, Milt Plum of Detroit, Bill Munson of Los Angeles, George Mira of San Francisco, Ron VanderKelen of Minnesota and Norm Sneed of Philadelphia, with Charley Johnson of St. Louis another possibility if coach Charley Winner decides to go after Cuozzo.

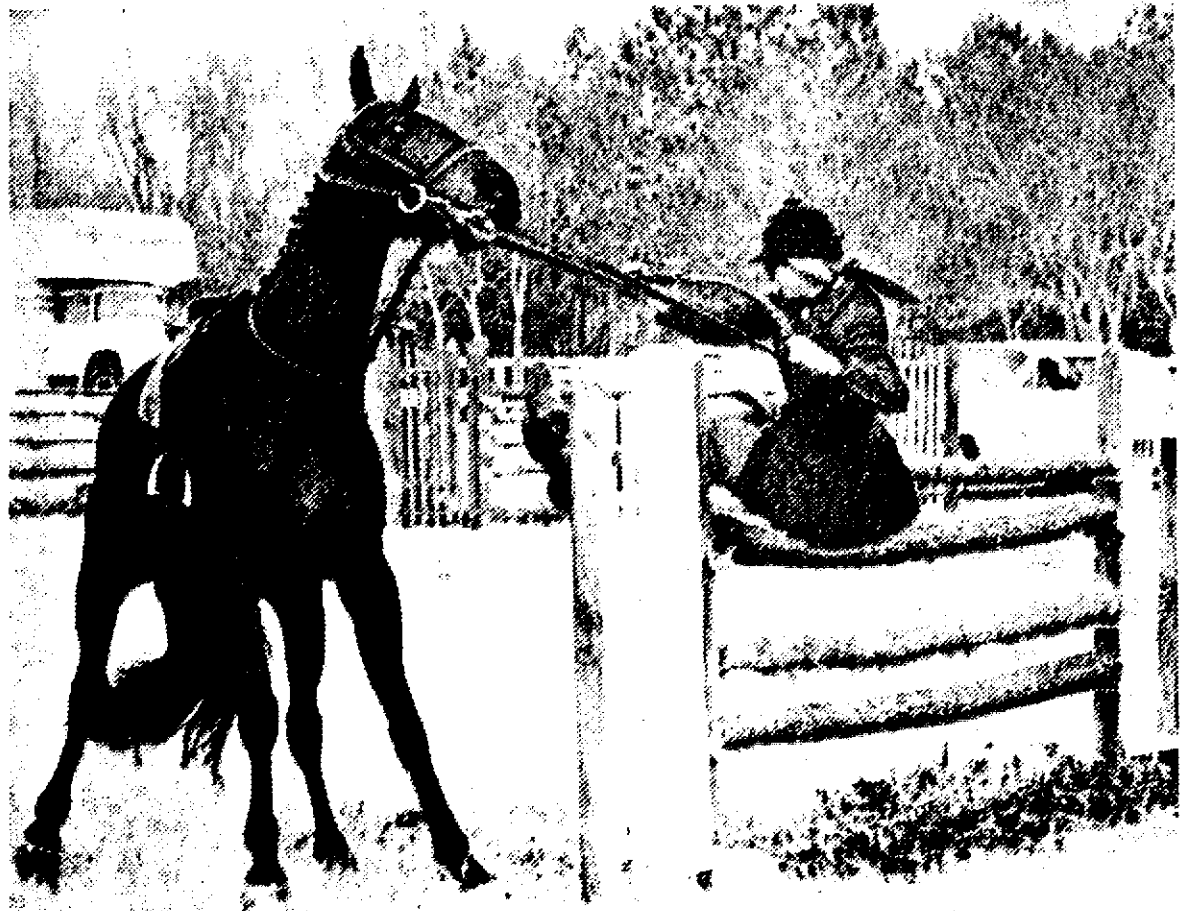

Big public relations trouble brewing in the Miami Dolphin franchise, since President Joe Robbie has decided to take on one of the local newspapers which has blasted his administration of team affairs. Could become serious enough to concern the league and even the commissioner.

This happened after the Dallas Cowboys clinched the Eastern Division title of the NFL and were flying home as champions for the first time in their short history. Clint Marchison, their pukeish millionaire owner, grabbed the plane's loudspeaker system as it circled the airport prior to the landing approach. "Gentlemen," he intoned, "you are now approaching Dallas, former home of the Kansas City Chiefs." (The Chiefs, of course, used to be the Dallas Texans, owned by Clint's millionaire rival, Lamar Hunt.)

One man who puts his money to good use is Jerry Wolman, the get-rich-quick guy who bought the Philadelphia Eagles. When Tommy Thompson, a former Eagle great now crippled by arthritis, came to Philadelphia for the team's alumni reunion, Wolman (who had never met the former quarterback) quietly made out a $2,000 check to help him in his treatment.

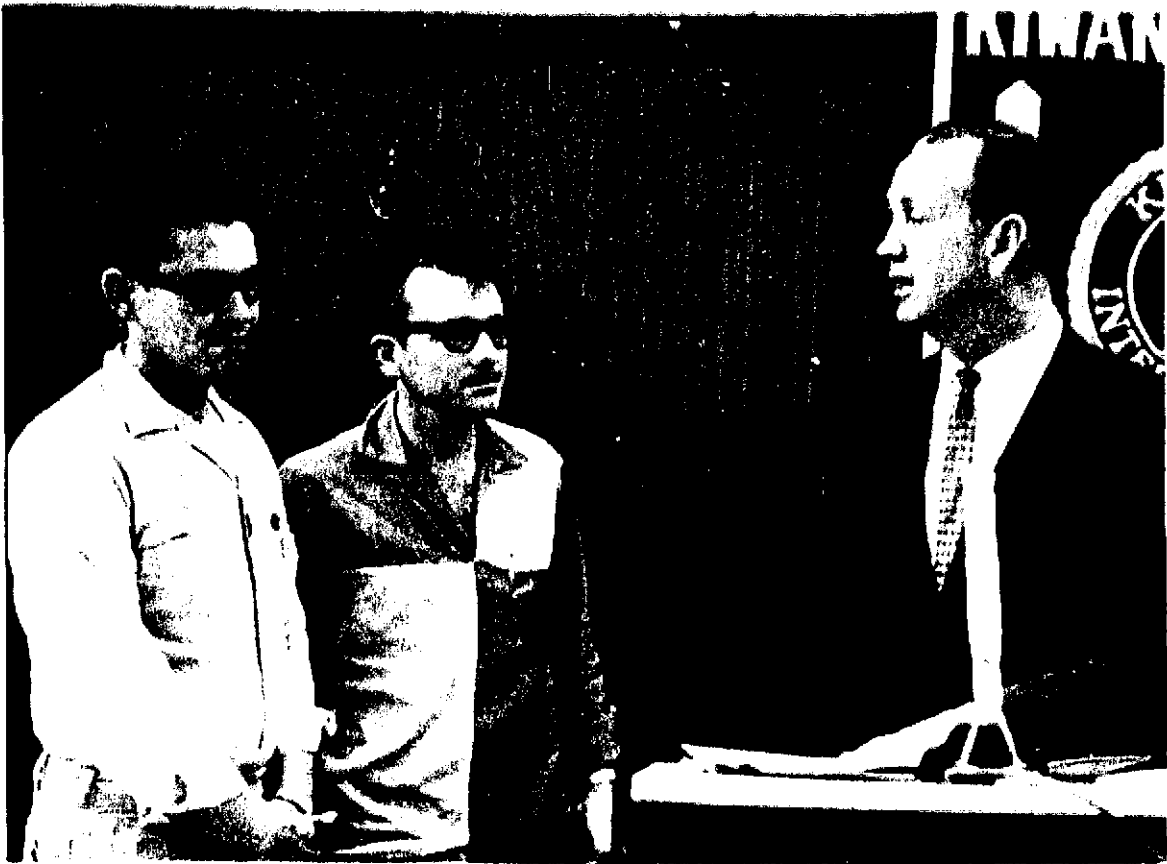

Baseball is following the lead of pro football and plotting a subsidiary merchandising and film operation to cash in on the by-products of the sport and also help promote it.

Between you'n' me, veteran pro football players are still steamed up about the indiscriminate no-cut contracts being handed out to young rookies.

Rehabilitation Discussed

Anthony Shock, Director of Arkansas Boys Industrial School, Pine Bluff, was guest speaker Tuesday before Hope Kiwanis club and discussed the school's rehabilitation program, some of its problems and much of its progress.

The school is located two miles west of Pine Bluff on 360 acres of land. It is staffed by 39 paid employees. The school has an enrollment of 140 boys ranging in age from 8 to 18.

Slide pictures showed modern facilities and living conditions, modern equipment for farm operations. There are no bars, no locks, no rigid controls, but much testing and evaluation, counseling at all levels, mental conditioning, moral and religious factors are stressed, Mr. Shock pointed out.

The program was arranged by Dean Murphy. Jack Reynard and Jerry Johnson were inducted by Kiwanian Jack Lowe as new members of the club. Rudy Reed of Nashville was a guest.

Trial a Saga of Safety Deposit Boxes

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bobby Baker trial has become a saga of safe deposit boxes.

Testimony in U.S. District Court Tuesday centered around two such boxes — one rented by Baker, the other by the late Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla.

At issue was Baker's story that he collected nearly $100,000 in senatorial campaign contributions from California savings and loan executives in the fall of 1962 and turned the cash over to Kerr.

Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, is accused of larceny, conspiracy and income tax evasion. The trial, in its third week, is expected to go to the jury by Friday.

The government says Baker kept $80,000 of the money and spent much of it on his Carousel Motel at Ocean City, Md. The prosecution contends $66,300 of the contributions was received by Baker in Washington, the rest on a trip to California.

Edward Bennett Williams, Baker's lawyer, told the jury last week he would prove that when Kerr's Washington safe

— A bill to create an Arkansas Turnpike Authority with the power to approve construction of toll roads and to authorize issuance of revenue bonds to finance such construction, with the bonds to be retired through revenue from tolls.

— A bill to extend the period for renewal of motor vehicle licenses to the last day of February instead of the last day of January.

— A bill to provide for a 28-member Legislative Council composed of eight members of the Senate (one from each of the six Congressional Districts established in 1951 and two "at large"), 16 members of the House (two from each Congressional District and four "at large") and the President Pro Tem of the Senate, the Speaker of the House and the chairman and vice chairman of the Joint Auditing Committee as ex officio members. (One of the House and one of the Senate also could be appointed by the governor to serve during the interim between this General Assembly and the 1969 General Assembly, but no governor would have a representative thereafter.)

— A bill to appropriate $650,000 for the Workman's compensation Commission to pay claims against the state during the 1967-69 biennium.

— A bill to appropriate $58,552 for personal services and operating expenses of the Arkansas Wing of the Civil Air Patrol during the 1967-69 biennium.

— A bill to appropriate $3,000 for expenses of the Interstate Commerce Commission during the 1967-69 biennium.

— A bill to appropriate $1,736,496 for salaries and operation of the executive branch of state government during the 1967-69 biennium and $3,117,153 for the judicial branch and $336,300 for the legislative branch.

— A bill to prohibit any state board, commission, department or political subdivision, or its employees, from recommending an ophthalmologist, oculist or optometrist to persons eligible for eye examinations.

— A bill to provide for appointment of a director of the Arkansas Archeological Survey and a state archeologist.

— A resolution commending Elijah Pitts, a former student at Philander Smith College in Little Rock for his "outstanding accomplishments as a leading member" of the Green Bay Packers, a professional football team.

— A bill to authorize investment of Firemen's Relief and Pension Funds in bank certificates of deposit or savings accounts.

deposit box was opened after Kerr's death Jan. 1, 1963, it contained the "equivalent" of the funds Baker received in Washington, less $25,000 cash which Baker says Kerr lent him — or $41,300.

Rex McClure, District of Columbia tax examiner, testified Tuesday he was present when the box was opened, and that the official count showed $42,950 cash.

Prosecutor William O. Bittman produced a bank record indicating that Baker paid a 52-minute visit to his own safe deposit box No. 29, 1962.

members would be appointed by the governor, with at least one coming from each of the four Congressional Districts.

The bonds it issued would be retired only with revenue from the tolls. The state's faith and credit could not be pledged, nor any of its revenues, and the bonds could not be secured by a mortgage or lien on its land or buildings.

The move to establish a turnpike authority developed in western Arkansas, where a turnpike from the Missouri border to the Louisiana state line has been proposed.

A duplicate of the bill was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Russell Elrod of Sloom Springs.

Failure to act on Rockefeller's appointments Tuesday was attributed to oversight by some senators. Others said the appointments were held up deliberately because three of them had drawn opposition.

Reportedly, these were to John Haley's appointment to the State Penitentiary Commission, Anne Payton's appointment to the board of the Girls Training School at Alexander and Joe Brooks' appointment to the board of Arkansas State College.

Sen. Guy Jones' bill to require Senate confirmation of all gubernatorial state board appointments got the 18 votes it needed for passage and an emergency clause for the measure got the required 24 votes on a second roll call.

In a slap at the Republican Party, the Senate voted 28-1 for a bill to grant majority party status to the political party that has a majority of the state's constitutional offices, rather than the present law that makes the party of the governor the majority.

Rep. Talbot Field of Hope introduced a bill calling for a limited constitutional convention on July 18 to revise constitutional limitations on the powers of cities and counties.

Another House bill would establish a State Training School

Advisory Board of the state's four training schools, and also a training school division of the State Welfare Department.

In other action, the House: — Defeated a bill to permit the deduction of federal income taxes from state income tax returns.

— Approved a bill to abolish reflectorized motor vehicle license plates.

— Defeated a bill extending the deadline for delivering absentee ballot applications to the county clerk from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. on election day.

— Approved a bill to eliminate the party levers with which voters could vote a straight ticket on voting machines.

— Amended a proposed constitutional amendment limiting the governor to two 2-year terms by adding a section that would prohibit the spouse of an incumbent from succeeding him.

The Senate also: — Approved a bill repealing an act requiring proof of payment of the state income tax as a qualification for public employment.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Good Lighting, Proper Position Prevent Eyestrain

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When it is an effort to bring what you are looking at into proper focus the result is eyestrain. Paradoxically the most severe symptoms of eyestrain often accompany a very slight visual error. This is because, if the error is too great, you give up trying to make out the details but, when the error is small, your eyes try to adjust and you are not aware of the effort involved.

Eyestrain may also be caused by looking too long at murals or other art objects that are placed high above your head or by sitting too close to a stage or movie screen that requires you to look up. It does not result from prolonged viewing of a television screen at eye level or slightly lower.

A third cause of eyestrain is improper lighting—light that is too bright or not bright enough. You should not, for example, read with direct sunlight falling on the page. When artificial light is used it should be diffused coming from several sources so that both glare and dark shadows are eliminated.

Prolonged eyestrain may cause a headache over or between your eyes, a smarting of your lids, blurring of near vision and a feeling of fatigue.

The treatment is based on such measures as having even minor errors of refraction corrected by carefully fitted glasses, positioning your body so that any prolonged looking you must do will require a minimum of upward or sideways movement of your eyeballs and reading by a soft light. Place a mirror on the page you are reading and if a lighted bulb is seen in the mirror you are getting too much glare.

Q—What are the first symptoms of cirrhosis of the liver and what is the final outcome?

A—Although once thought to be caused only by heavy drinking, we now know that any chronic disease of the Oswald: "Here is a hand which really shows the American team trials players at their best. Looking at all the cards one can see that North and South can wrap up either seven clubs or seven hearts and that it should not be hard to get to one of those grand slams."

Jim: "The great trouble is that in this type competition no one is left to his own devices."

Oswald: "There was plenty of bidding static from East and West. The toughest series of bids came from Mike Lawrence and Lew Stansby. Lawrence overcalled with four spades. Marshall Miles bid four no-trump with the North hand and Stansby, sitting East, jumped to six spades!"

Jim: "This type of bid is known as a premature sacrifice. Stansby was going to go to six spades in any event. He decided to bid it early and hope for the best. The best happened. South passed to give his partner a chance to go to seven hearts but North decided to double and take a sure profit. It was a point profit but not a match point profit since 700 plus was low score and meant a loss of 12 International Match Points."

Oswald: "The next best East-West score went to Kehela and Murray. Kehela overcalled with two spades, which did not keep North and South from getting to seven but Murray showed why he is one of our most successful competitors by going to seven spades and taking the save for a profit of nine IMPs."

Jim: "The other three North-South pairs were allowed to play the hand at a grand slam. Roth and Root gained an extra IMP by getting to seven hearts while Freeman-Feldesman and Kaplan-Kay played in seven clubs."

Woman, 84, Looks Forward to Tomorrow

By HAROLD V. STREETER
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Imogen Cunningham, one of the outstanding art photographers in the United States, has a quick answer to the question of which is her greatest photograph.

"It's the one I'm going to take tomorrow," says the woman who in April will be 84 years young.

After 60 years as a professional taking and developing pictures, this bouncy mother of three and grandmother of nine refuses to look back.

"I'm going to keep on just as long as my eyes can focus," assures the white-haired, pixie-faced artist of the lens.

Forty-one of her works are in the Library of Congress and others are in New York's Museum of Modern Art and George Eastman House.

"Then I'm going to buy a ticket around the world on a freighter and get off at every stop," she says. This year the 5 foot 4 bundle of energy, whose camera has portrayed Gertrude Stein, Herbert Hoover, John Masefield and William Somerset Maugham, ventured into calendar art.

Bosomy females? No. Panoramic land scenes? No. The 1967 calendar for an airline features delicate closeups by Imogen Cunningham of spiral-lined calla lilies, the natural pleats in a banana leaf, the orderly patterns made by the prickly stickers of an agave cactus.

"Imogen simply amazes me," says the airline spokesman. "She talks only about today or tomorrow. Never yesterday."

At rare moments when her 115-pounds are relaxed in a chair, her mind is rushing in all directions — such as plans for the one-woman showing she will have at Stanford University in April.

"I'm not conversational with people my age," she says. "All they can talk about is their arthritis."

What portraits did she choose to send to the Library of Congress?

"I don't send anything to anybody," she says, bouncing up to serve her guests some sherry. "If they don't find me, they can go without me."

Is she just a now-and-then photographer in view of her age?

"I'm immortalizing someone whenever I can, as often as I can. If I don't work, I don't eat."

Ever since her father set up here first darkroom in 1901 in a woodshed at Third and Clay streets in Seattle, Imogen Cunningham has done her own developing, with one exception.

"I was in Texas and sent on my negatives, some taken in places like Paris, for a San Francisco firm to process. But some damn fool turned on a light and fogged up many of my precious pictures."

"Never again. My basement is my dark room. It's very efficient. I'm the one that isn't."

Her physical agility is something which has to be seen to be believed. Ask her how she does it and all she will say is: "Father lived to 98 and he was sharp as a tack. He wanted me to be a schoolteacher, not — as he put it — a dirty photographer."

Nevertheless, a photographer

she became, studying chemistry at the University of Washington and chemistry as it relates to photography in Dresden, Germany.

By 1910 she had her own portrait studio in Seattle. After her marriage to Roi Partridge, a Seattle etcher, and the birth of her three sons, the family moved to San Francisco, where she has made her headquarters.

Honors have been heaped upon her, such as that of the American Society of Magazine Photographers in 1964, when she was 81. Recently the San Francisco Examiner named her one of 10 "women of the year," for 1966.

Ansel Adams, another noted photographer, wrote to her from Carmel: "Cheers for being one of the women of the year. I am regretful that you had to be mixed up with the other. You are the woman of the year."

Wallace to Fight Any Fund Cutoff

By DILLON GRAHAM
WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama carries to the Senate Finance Committee today his state's fight against a cutoff of federal welfare funds.

Appearing as an assistant to Gov. Lurleen Wallace, his wife, and "as the person under whose administration all the fuss developed," Wallace argues his state's case against a decision by Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner terminating the federal aid effective Feb. 28.

Gardner said Alabama is the only state that has refused to give adequate assurance that it will administer public assistance and child welfare programs without racial discrimination. He ruled the state was not in compliance with the non-discrimination provisions of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

On the eve of Wallace's appearance before the committee, Gardner denied an Alabama motion for postponement of the Feb. 28 cutoff date. The state last week filed suit in federal court in an attempt to block his order.

Alabama is receiving an estimated $95.8 million in federal welfare aid this fiscal year. Up to 200,000 persons would be affected by a cutoff.

Prior to the hearing, Wallace termed the dispute "a matter of grave principle."

"The principle is whether or not a bureaucrat can cut off funds to the blind and sick and elderly because an official of a state government office won't sign a regulation which we believe goes beyond the law," he said.

Alabama officials contend the Welfare Department's regulations go beyond the intent of the Civil Rights Act. They say they shouldn't be required to sign any assurance until courts have ruled on legality of the regulations.

The Civil Rights Act requires that Senate and House committees handling legislation dealing with the affected programs be given 30 days notice before funds are terminated.

That is why the Finance Committee, which considers Social Security legislation, arranged today's hearing at the request of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala.

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

SAIGON, Vietnam—(NEA) —From the beginning the bored, brittle, blank-faced children of this nation have a rough go at existence.

A quarter of them die in infancy. Half fail before five years.

And as for the ones who survive the first 10 annuals of life, at least 10 per cent are certain of contracting pulmonary tuberculosis.

But that's only the first decade. The remaining 27 years of life expectancy in this land are often worse. Poverty, war, cruelty, squalid living... a kid learns the brutal way here and the only law that endures in all the human decay is to eat or be eaten.

Small wonder then that hundreds of thousands of hopeless, hapless Vietnamese youngsters have been more or less raised as social cannibals.

Delinquents, they're called. And there is a whole generation of them.

They are easily identified. In the downtown streets they stand near the pub doors in small, ragged clusters—and pick the pockets of the American soldiers who stagger by.

In the side districts they sit on garbage cans at the front of dark houses and yell out off U.S. military trucks.

He was caught doing just that recently.

"Let me go," he pleaded.

A Vietnamese policeman hit him in the mouth.

The boy cried.

The cop pushed him down.

The boy got up and fled.

The cop roared.

It is hardly a laughing matter, of course, and the local government says it is doing all it can to correct the situation, which means, in the political vernacular of Vietnam, nothing.

In truth, local authorities can't afford much more than zero. Saigon's annual budget, for example, is only about $9 million, of which two-thirds goes toward official salaries. The remainder allotted for city betterment totals about $1 per resident.

The educational system is somewhat encouraging. Saigon's schools teach nearly 150,000 youngsters a year. Yet even this is woefully inadequate. Many children learn to read through sex magazines.

VIETNAMESE CHILDREN HUDDLE in the streets. Doing what? Nothing constructive usually. Certainly not playing. In Vietnam survival leaves little time for children's games.

The United States, already overburdened with local grief, still tries to help the kids. U. S. missions care for some of the younger delinquents and U.S. dollars help some of the older ones.

Yet the irony is, Americans often do more harm than good. Begging children would not remain if Yanks refused them handouts; young pimps would not function if foreign residents shook their heads; youthful black marketeers would not prosper if GIs would quit giving away millions of canned rations every year.

But the Americans won't, the kids will, and the problem worsens.

Money must be had for cigarettes and opium trips. Business must be solicited for 29,000 Saigon prostitutes. A viper has to expand as the inflation does if he expects to survive in this country.

Life is too short here as it is.

A kid can expect only 37 years.

And more and more of them are doing whatever is necessary to get even that.

Vaccination dates back to 1798.

THE AMERICAN INFLUENCE is easily seen in Saigon streets. Trouble is, the American influence, well-meaning as it may be, sometimes is turned in the wrong direction by Vietnamese children.

Canadian Liberals Lose First Vote

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's minority Liberal government lost its first House of Commons vote in more than two years as a Conservative amendment to the national transportation bill was approved Wednesday 59-58.

The defeat did not count as a no-confidence vote requiring Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson to resign.

The amendment removes from the bill a proposed study of grain freight rates.

Egypt Denies Gas Bomb Use

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government denied today that its troops have used gas bombs or "another means of chemical warfare" at any time in Yemen.

New Berkey Color Machine Turns Out First Production

On my desk are two sets of four-color separation negatives and their matching color-key prints—first production from our new Berkey Direct Screen System machine, second such machine to be installed by an American newspaper.

The machine, a giant enlarger coupled to a computer, was set up and tested Monday and Tuesday, the computer was calibrated for correct automatic exposure of process color—Tuesday's 13-hour day was climaxed by actual production of two 4x5 Ektachrome transparencies enlarged to make 4-column pictures in the newspaper.

We make no guarantee, because this is a production test of the most difficult operation known to printing, but we are planning to make publication of the first full-color picture from the automatic Berkey machine in the Southwest this coming Saturday, Jan. 28. If we have trouble with special inks now in the house for the big Fairchild color press the test will be passed until another week-end and the paper issued in black-and-white with the picture omitted.

I was made aware this morning of the fact that Hope is in the national spotlight because of this testing of the second Berkey newspaper machine to be delivered anywhere. The telephone rang at 10 a.m. New York City was calling. It was D. Dadko of the technical research department of American Newspaper Publishers Association. He wanted to know how we made out last night. I told him the machine had delivered the goods—but the press job was still ahead of us, this Saturday. And he, like the rest of you, will be waiting on that paper.

These first color pictures were produced by our machine in our plant—but the Star staff had precious little to do with the job. The experts were loading up the computer and making negatives as they went. Only now is the machine fully automatic—a push button operation that our staff will work into gradually. It's going to take three months or more to learn the procedure, and we'll be drawing on outside help until we master it.

Top man in our local show Monday and Tuesday was Arve Jensen, product manager for Berkey Technical Corporation, New York. He's a Norwegian engineer who helped develop this new machine in Norway. The Norwegians took Eastman's color processes and developed a computer system which kept the ratio of exposures for red, blue, and yellow constant whether the original color transparency was light or dark. Berkey brought the process to the United States. The Cowles family (Des Moines Register) bought the first one, a 4x5-inch model, for a new suburban newspaper at Deer Park, Long Island; Hope Star purchased the first 8x10-inch machine, and right behind us the Chicago Tribune bought one like ours.

Second of the visiting experts Monday and Tuesday was Gordon Price, Eastman Kodak expert from Dallas; and the third man was Garland Bosley of Little Rock, co-owner of the Jungkind Co., sales agents for Berkey—Bosley himself being an ex-Eastman Kodak expert.

Now they are gone and we're left alone with the Monster—8 feet tall, with 32 buttons and switches, and not a soul in town has the slightest idea which does what. Well, we lived through the conversion to offset printing last year—and we expect to make it this year, too. And if and when we do come through with a full-color photograph in The Star you'll agree it's been worth while.

Mrs. JFK May Visit Hong Kong

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy is considering a trip to Hong Kong, with stops in Thailand and Cambodia, her New York office said Monday.

Although plans are not specific, it was said that Mrs. Kennedy hoped to visit her half sister, Mrs. Lewis P. Rutherford, the former Janet Auchincloss, within two months. The Rutherfords were married in July at Newport, R.I. He is teaching in Hong Kong.

Political Crisis Posed in Vietnam

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnam's ruling military junta tried to head off another political crisis today following the ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co. He had been deputy premier, defense minister and the leading southerner in the junta dominated by refugees from North Vietnam.

Informed Vietnamese sources said 20 to 30 supporters of Co, most of them military personnel, had been put under house arrest, and assistants of his on the defense staff were being transferred or watched by security police.

Saigon, although filled with rumors, was quiet and there was no indication that the directory of ruling generals was breaking up. But some disgruntlement at the ouster of the southern general was reported among southern leaders in Saigon who resent the northerners' domination.

Students in High School More Tidy

Any visitor to High School recently would have noticed a quite tidy student body. Yes, as a result of faculty and Student Council efforts, many of the student organizations helped to make "Take Pride in Yourself and Your School Week" a big success.

There were posters in the halls urging neatness on the students part, and during the assemblies that week there were talks explaining the importance of neatness and skits contrasting the tidy student with the unkempt one.

To promote competition between classes, the administration agreed to dismiss the neatest class one hour earlier on Friday. Coming through in fine style, the winning class was no other than the Freshmen. One and one-half dollar prizes went to the neatest boy and girl in each class. In the Freshman class the winners were Lamar Cox and Thomas Norvell. Sophomore class winners were Donna Connelly and Larry Whitaker. For the Junior class were Duwana Cox and Gene Jines, and Senior winners were Cecilia Archer and Jim James.

Honorable Mentions were also announced for each class. Freshman people were—Mary Beth Millican, Debbie Moore, Justin Caldwell, Bruce Garrett and Mark Gunter. For the sophomores—Linda Cummings, Jennie Callcott, Dennis Langston, Larry Massanelli.

Juniors were Donna Byers, Twila Hunt, Alan Clark, and Larry Alford. Seniors placing were Ruth Wylie, Barbara Piercy, Kenneth Willis, and Bill Etter.

By the way, the project seems to have made an effect on a lot of students because many of them continue to come to school neatly dressed.

Disagrees With Ruling of Purcell

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff took issue Tuesday with Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell's opinion that state legislators would not receive per diem expenses during an extended session of the General Assembly.

Gathright said it was his opinion that the legislators would receive $20 a day, the per diem for a regular session. Gathright and Purcell disagree as to whether Amendment 5 of the state constitution was entirely superseded by later amendments. Purcell contends that one phrase was not. That phrase specifically prohibits per diem pay after a regular 60 day session.

Gathright was one of the authors of a resolution adopted by both houses of the legislature to extend the present session indefinitely.

U.S. Troops Move Into Mekong Delta

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A reinforced battalion of American infantrymen moved into the Mekong Delta today, becoming the first large contingent of U. S. combat troops based in the area where some commanders say the Vietnam war will be won or lost.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters announced that an artillery-supported battalion of the U. S. 9th Infantry division moved into a base camp 40 miles southwest of Saigon near the delta city of My Tho.

The contingent — estimated at 1,000 men — also included elements of a brigade headquarters in the start of a buildup of American strength in the rice bowl where until now operations have been largely by South Vietnamese forces.

The infantry contingent, described by a U. S. spokesman as a "maneuver battalion," joined engineer and support units which had moved into the delta base camp Jan. 10.

The entry of U. S. combat forces into the delta, where large sections are under Viet Cong domination, came during one of the periodic lulls in fighting in the Vietnam war.

The U. S. and South Vietnamese military commands reported only small ground skirmishes in widely scattered sectors.

Over North Vietnam, monsoon rains and heavy cloud cover once again hampered U. S. air raids. American bombing pilots flew only 41 missions Tuesday.

The bad weather is expected to continue for the next six weeks. As it closed in, one of President Johnson's special advisers called for a continuation of American raids against the north. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former U. S. ambassador to Saigon, told newsmen the bombing of North Vietnam is an essential part of allied strategy.

"It is a blue chip for negotiations," Taylor said as he left for Washington after a five-day visit. "It would be a mistake to stop it."

In war developments, U. S. Air Force B52 bombers attacked the demilitarized zone this afternoon for the second day in an effort to cut infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into the south.

The big Stratoforts unloaded tons of high explosives on infiltration routes, a bivouac area and a storage area in the six-mile-wide buffer area between North and South Vietnam. A U. S. spokesman said the bombs straddled the demarcation line dividing the zone.

It was the second raid of the day for the eight-engine bombers. At dawn, a wave of B52s hit a suspected Communist troop concentration in the central highlands close to the Cambodian border. A spokesman said the bombers struck 15 miles west of the U. S. Army Special Forces camp at Plei Diereng, a sensitive spot that has been attacked intermittently by North Vietnamese troops.

A South Vietnamese mine-sweeping launch hit a mine in a river 25 miles southeast of Saigon and sank. Five members of the crew were wounded and the U. S. adviser is missing, a Vietnamese spokesman announced.

Skirmishes in Laos Reported

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Skirmishing described as serious to slight has broken out in three sectors of Laos between Laotian government forces and North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao troops, reliable military sources reported today.

Army officers showed no concern over the fighting.

Mao's Forces, in the Minority, Told to Use Guns on Enemy

TOKYO (AP) — Defense Minister Gen. Piao's propaganda outlet confessed today that Mao Tse-tung's shock forces are in the minority. Lin's Liberation Army Daily directed the 2.5-million-man armed forces to stamp out Mao's enemies "with the gun."

The army daily said the minority role of Mao's forces was only temporary and that the 73-year-old Communist chairman himself had issued "a vital call" for military help.

The Peking People's Daily reported Tuesday that Maoist forces, with the decisive help of the army, had seized the government of Shansi Province adjacent to Peking and the capital city of Taiyuan.

But wall posters in Peking, reported by Japanese correspondents, said that pro-Liu "Red Flag Guards" and another anti-Mao organization took over a military barracks, the provincial government offices and Communist party headquarters in Changsha, capital of Mao's native Hunan Province, after clashes with the army Jan. 15. The report said six soldiers and six Maoists were hurt.

The editorial in the Liberation Army Daily hinted at resistance within the military to throwing the massive power of the army into what began as a political and ideological conflict between Mao and government and party officials headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

"Some people use 'nonintervention' as a pretext to suppress the masses in reality," it said. "This is absolutely impermissible. The question is not whether or not to intervene, but which side to stand on."

The paper said the army had been called into action because of "the new situation" in Mao's purge, which was extended at the turn of the year to factories, mines and the countryside. Under the changed circumstances, it said, "It is not possible for the People's Liberation Army to refrain from intervention."

The army until this week had not been thrust directly into the Mao-Liu confrontation, and the call to it suggested that Mao's attempt to restrict control of the government and the party organization was still running into heavy going.

Looks Forward

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that he was looking forward to cooperation in which state and county officials could discuss various matters.

The governor told the Arkansas County Judges Association that there was a need for communication and exchange of ideas between government officials because their offices and his office face the same basic problems—roads, school, health and welfare.

Bill by WR Would Keep State Workers Out of Politics

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "This was one of the planks in the governor's campaign platform, and I think he ought to have a chance to follow through on it," Sen. J. Lee Bearden of Leachville said Tuesday.

With that he presented Arkansas' 66th General Assembly with its first administration measure—a bill to keep state employees out of politics.

Except for the state's seven constitutional officers and the elected members or employees of the legislative and judicial branches of government, the bill calls for dismissal of any state officer or employee who uses his official authority to interfere with an election or influence its results, or who takes an active part in any political campaign.

The real teeth of the measure, though, are bared in a paragraph providing that any state employee who quits or leaves his job less than three months before he takes an active part in politics will be ineligible to return to state employment until six months after ceasing his political activity.

When Orval Faubus was governor, a number of his top department heads stepped down when the campaigning started and returned to their jobs after helping in his bids for re-election.

Bearden, a Senate floor leader for every governor since Homer Adkins, said Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's bill provided that any person dismissed or declared ineligible for re-employment would have 20 days in which to submit a written request for a review by the board of trustees of the Arkansas State Employees Retirement System.

The bill was read twice Tuesday and sent to committee. The Senate probably will get a chance to vote on it later in the week.

The Senate failed to act on 13 state board and commission appointments that the governor submitted Monday, passed a bill designed to regain Democratic control of county election commissions.

Both the House and Senate convened at 1 p.m. today.

In the House, Reps. Bernice Kizer of Fort Smith and Marion Crank of Foreman introduced a bill to establish a nine-member Arkansas Turnpike Authority that could acquire land and issue revenue bonds for construction of toll roads.

As ex officio members of the authority, the governor would be its chairman and the director of highways would be its secretary. The other seven

$12 Billion Extra for War in Budget

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's request for an extra $12.5 billion to finance the war in Vietnam gets prompt attention in Congress.

The request reached the Capitol Tuesday. Today, the Senate Armed Services and Defense Appropriations Committees hold a joint meeting to receive from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara more details on why the money is needed and how it would be spent.

The House Appropriations Committee, not yet formally organized, must originate the bill. Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., committee chairman, promised speedy action.

"We will report a bill as soon as we reasonably can after the necessary hearings," Mahon told a reporter.

The acting senior Republican on Mahon's committee, Rep. Charles R. Jonas of North Carolina, agreed that prompt action was needed but cautioned against undue haste.

"We need to take a close look at how some of the money we have been providing has been spent," Jonas said. "If they can make a good case for it, we'll give them all they request and maybe more."

Jonas said he was concerned over the huge spending on construction programs in Vietnam.

The ranking Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee predicted, meanwhile, that when all the costs of the war in Vietnam are finally met they "will be at least $200 billion."

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., coupled this estimate with a protest that administration officials, whether intentionally or otherwise, "left the impression that this would be a comparatively short war."

"When all of our present commitments are met the minimum cost of the war will be at least $200 billion," Young said in a report to his constituents. "Our commitments of money and men are so great at the present time that we could not undertake another major conventional war."

The Vietnam appropriation will give the new Congress its first opportunity to stage a full debate on the administration's policies in Southeast Asia.

Such a debate raged last year but Congress completed action late in March on a $13.1 billion Vietnam money bill. That bill went to Congress Jan. 19 and was passed without change.
